

I am and have been a traveling businessman for the last 25 years mostly in the state of Florida. I have traveled mostly by car during those years battling to stay with radio stations as I moved from area to area in this large magnificent state of Florida. It was about 6 months ago I learned and became a member of the satellite Radio community and understood the benefits ---- the up to date traffic reports which are meaningful and up to date as well as continuous have saved me much time and I have been just in the last month be able to avoid danger several times. Other available traffic reports are always five minutes after you need them because they have to selll their soap first and usually are limited in nature and late -----Satellite Radio has made my travel safer and more enjoyable as I travel thru many area of Florida including the panhandle where normal radio is unavailable ----- Don't restrict progress and safer travel -----Any attempt to limit the availability of Satellite radio is a giant step backwards to the many business travelers -- It also provides instant AMBER ALERTS as was the case last night as I traveled back from Tallahassee to Orlando --- I don't know of any other available radio network that does that ---- Enough said
